

FOLLOW QUESTION THE QUO ON SOCIAL MEDIA:

- <https://www.instagram.com/question.the.quo>
- <https://www.tiktok.com/@question.the.quo>
- <https://www.youtube.com/@questionthequo>
- #QuestionTheQuo

VISIT OUR WEBSITE:

<https://questionthequo.org/>

SHARE OUR LATEST SURVEY DATA:

- Press release
- Downloadable report

SAMPLE TWEETS

#QuestionTheQuo is a campaign by @ecmcgroup, seeking to encourage students to explore their many postsecondary education options. Learn more about the results of their surveys asking teens about school and work.

New data from @ecmcgroup shows only 13% of teens feel prepared to make a decision about their future education and career path. #QuestionTheQuo

Careers are top-of-mind for today's teens, according to a new survey #QuestionTheQuo survey from @ecmcgroup. Check out additional findings here: <Link to report or press release>

According to a new #QuestionTheQuo survey from @ecmcgroup, belief in postsecondary ed has increased above pre-pandemic levels, but many students are seeking shorter, flexible pathways.

The latest #QuestionThQuo survey from @ecmcgroup shows most teens still have questions about their finances when determining a path after high school.

SAMPLE POSTS FOR OTHER SOCIAL PLATFORMS

According to a new #QuestionTheQuo survey from ECMC Group [tag], teens' belief in postsecondary education has increased above pre-pandemic levels, but many are looking for shorter, more flexible pathways to careers.

Recent data from ECMC Group's [tag], #QuestionTheQuo surveys shows only 13% of teens feel prepared to make a decision about their education and career path after high school.

QUESTION THE QUO[®]

Powered by ECMC Group

Template Social Media Posts

Did you know nearly half of all teens think about their education and career path after high school every single day? ECMC Group [tag] uncovered these insights from high schoolers as part of the #QuestionTheQuo campaign encouraging students to that provides resources for students to determine their future education and career path.

Students are concerned about their future finances and need more information about how they can meet their basic needs while attending postsecondary education. Learn more about this trend and others in ECMC Group's [tag] latest #QuestionTheQuo report.